hope2day makes all the difference

With hope2day, you make a real difference

Initiating innovative projects that meet social needs

Providing services and programs of assistance to people in need

Value-adding to social programs already established by registered charities and governments

Contributing to the development and operation of the social service and health promotion sectors

Collaborating with others to develop and deliver programs that meet needs

Building 'social capital' of disadvantaged groups by identifying and connecting them with support, solidarity, information and influence within existing social networks hope2day values the generosity of every supporter

We are dedicated to transparency and accountability, so that individuals and companies know exactly how their benevolence is making a difference. Along with a personalised Social Impact Portfolio, supporters receive stories, regular program updates and can request information relating to the projects they are supporting or their personal financial contributions.
